[Correspondence of the Herald.] DEAR BENNETT-endeavored to transmit the most important items within the reach of a reporter, which follow. The brig Orion, Wheeler, arrived this morning from Laguayra, having left November 1st, with a cargo of coffee, consigned to Dallett & Brother. This of course increases the already large supply of that article in our market, and will have an additional tendeacy to lessen the price of the same.

Quite a large amount of specie left the vaults of the Bank of North America this afternoon—destination New Orleans.

Milton J. Alexander, the young Kentuckian, charged with the murder of Lougee, the broker, is set down for Monday next. He has secured eminent counsel, in the persons of Geo. M. Dallas, W.m. B. Reed, Henry M. Phillips, Esqs., and the Hon. John M. Pope, of Kentucky.

As usual, on a Sunday afternoon, a disgraceful fight occured between two of our fire companies, in the upper part of the city.

There are great attractions at the several places of amusements to night. Welch, the most generous and deserving manager that ever presented his same to the public, takes his first benefit at the beautiful Orympic. His bill is a strong one, and will unquestion, bly draw a crowded house. Indeed, General Welch deserves much at the hands of the Philadelphia pin, ic, from the fact of his having presented them a place of so delightful resort free from all immoral contamination, which too frequently characterize our thea. Ires.

At the Waln, "I Street Theatre the enterprising exertions of Mr. Marshall are again evident. Mr. and Mrs. Brougham, Mad. and Mons. Lecompte, with several other eq. "ally attractive stars appear. The Love Chase and Rubert Le Diable constitute the evening's entertainme, "It. Miss C. Cushman, the charming directress, has won the universal applause of the whole play-going community, and in sober reality, no one deserves it stronger than does this sweet, active, and enthusia stic woman.

Miss Ayres, a very oretty actn. ss., takes a benefit to-night at the Chesnut, where the has many admiring friends.

At the Arch, Mossop is the great a, traction.

The "Spirit of the Times" is out to-day in another severe, but just, article concerning the in Spirit de the Spirit de the Spirit of the Times" is out to-day in another severe, but just, article concerning the in famous course of the "Lumber" Moyamensing Bank. Du Selle has pictured in vivid colors the many star tling acts of fraud and insolence which characterix ed this swindling shop and its officers, one of whom has but recently returned from the West Indies, where he had been for the good of his health. The "Times" is, beyond question, in this city, just what the Herald is in New York, (save circulation,) the most bold, manly, and independent sheet in existence.

An affidavit has been made by Samuel Dolby

An affidavit has been made by Samuel Dolby, now awaiting sentence for perjury, which, should it ever be made public, will disclose some startling facts, and place several hitherto "respectable" gentlemen in no very enviable light.

The young negro, Wm. Conlin, died on Sunday from the effects of the stab received at the hands of James Brister, a few evenings since. The murderer is still at large.

It is proposed in one of the morning papers, to lease the United States Bank, for the purpose of containing the menagerie of Mr. Raymond, now exhibiting at the corner of 13th and Spruce streets. The President's room to be set apart for the hyenas, whilst that of the Directors will contain the various monkeys. A pretty good joke this.

Much bustle was apparent at the different banking houses in this city during the day, it being set apart for the election of directors for the ensuing year. It is generally believed that an entire change would take place in the management of the future affairs of some of our banks, and that a new set of directors would consequently be elected. It is really time, gentlemen, that a little change should come over your affairs, as the people are tired of deception and iraud, they having, to their heart's sorrow, experienced enough of it during the past year.

Very little business occurred at the regular Board of Brokers to-day. The following are the sales: -First Board -$1000 Cincinnati Bonds, 6%, 1856, 72. Second Board -$700 State 6%, 1865 44; 60 shares Wilmington R Road, B. 36, 74; 27 do Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank, 18; 1 do Pennsylvania do, 54.

STEAMBOAT COLLISION.—The steamboat Farmer came in collision with the Scioto Valley, on Monday last, by which the former was sunk. The accident occurred at three o'clock in the morning, about twenty miles below Louisville. Although it could not be ascertained accurately, it was supposed three or four deck passengers were drowned. Boat and cargo probably a total loss. The Farmer was from Louisville bound for New Orleans.

STEAMBOAT SUNK.—The Fair Play was snagged n' sunk, in five feet water, on Wednesday, ist above Cincinnati.

When with sorrow your heart is breaking.

Or stomach or head is oppressed with pain,
A Peters' Lozenge be after taking,
And you'll be sound as a bell again.
And, on! if with worms your children are wasting.
With worms the most terrible under the sun—
Those Lozenges mighty will give them a basting
That soon shall cause them to cut and run.

When you've a cough or cold that's hacking,
Of Peters' Lozeng-s take a few,
Which soon the rascals will send a packing,
And make you feet just as good as new.
And if your fancies you'd wish to make supple,
Because with the blues you are oppressed,
Of Peters' Lozenges take a couple—
And, O, you'll think you're among the blest.

By the way, the above was written under the inspiration of one of Peters' Cordial Lezenges. When we wish to be brilliant we take a couple. Editors, and all persons who live by their wits, do you hear that? Principal office 125 Fulton, corner of Nassau street, New York.

CD COPY OF LETTER FROM OUR AGENT, AT BALTIMORE, Md. Nov. 19, 1841:

Gents: Enclosed i send you a draft on New York, for 180 deilars, which is the amount of your account against me. I have h ard of a number of cures performed by your Candy in this vicinity. In the next letter I will enclose you a certificate, which I received from one of our citizens; who experienced relief from the use of the article. You will therefore please ship me as soon as convenient, two boxes containing one hundred and fifty dollars worth each, and I will forward you the amount of the bill on receipt of the boxes. You will oblige me by sending, without delay, as I have now got but $5 worth of the four shilling packages on hand. It is impossible to tell exactly the size packages I shall want, but you will have an assortment put in these two boxes. And as I can always get a fresh supply in four days time if you attend to my order, I run no risk of being out of the article.

morning will be issued in an Extra New World, an original and beautifully written Novel, by a popular American author, entitled "Franklin Evans, or the Inebriate, a Tale of the Times," dedicated to the friends of Temperance in this city and throughout be Union. It was written with a view to aid the great work of reform, and rescue young men from the Demon of Intemperance. The incidents of the plot are wrought out with great effect, and the excellence of the moral, and the beneficial influence it will have, should interest the friends of the Temperance Reformation in giving this tale the widest possible circulation.

A writ from the United States District Court for the district of Illinois, for $235,000, at the suit of Mr. John Stickney, of New York, for the use of the Bank of Mis souri and Eastern creditors, was served on the 11th inst upon the officers of the Banks of Illinois and Shawnes the Federal Government, has been for years before the public mind; and after having at one time been settled by the adoption of the Sub-Treasury scheme, again became the subject of anxiety and mischievous discussion, on the repeal of that law, before any new system had been provided. There is in the community a class of politicians who carry in their train all that host of speculators and lesperate men, who grew up with the paper bubbles of late years, and perished in their explosion. Added to these, are some few business men, who honestly imagine a National Bank to be necessary to the transaction o business. The party thus formed, have been the establishment of some institution, no matter by wha name it is called, capable of emitting large amounts of paper money, based on credit, by which the currency and prices may be susceptible of great inflation. The politicians see in this the means of riding into power, during the excitement which its stimulating power would undoubtedly produce. Trusting to fortune, after having arrived at power, to weather the storm which will inevi tably overtake it, sooner or later, according to the breadt of its foundation. Based on the credit of the Federa Government, with its resources pledged for the issues, a bubble could be raised, which would last 8 to 10 years, or through two or three Presidential terms. But the more deep-rooted and wide spread the fabric is, the more fatal to the country would be its overthrow. It would serve th ends of the politicians, however, and their ambition would meet its reward. The speculators having been taught, from the experi ence of the past few years, and, being fully inocculated with the gambling fever, inherent in the bank paper sys tem, hope to retrieve their broken fortunes at the expens of the industrious, during the inflation, promissing them selves, with the gambler's infatuation, that they will realize and retire with what they can get, before the storm overtakes the country. Here is a community of interest that strive actively to perfect the plan, which is to be th instrument of their aggrandizement. From these emanate the thousand and one schemes and different modes which paper is to be put affoat, and palmed upon the pe ple for the proceeds of their toil. The large majority of the merchants and the industrious classes, depend for the reward of their skill and labor, upon the steadiness of the currency. As long as that obeys the laws of trade, the calculations of the farmer and the enterprises of the mer-chant are formed upon a sure basis, and seldom fail of success. When, however, the currency obeys not the law of trade, but only the whims and caprices of certain men, who, with a few sweeps of a pen can multiply or diminish the volume of the currency, the rates of exchange and the prices of goods, at pleasure—all prudence, all skill, and all the calculations of industry are baffled, and the wisest and most prudent are thrown entirely into the power of grasping speculators, who, watching the jug-gling tricks of the paper machine, by its means, have the welfare of the country at their disposal. All the plans of finance presented to Congress last ses-sion, contained the features here marked out, in a greater or less degree—that of the Secretary of the Treasury, by far to the greatest extent. As that bill is again to discussed, with, however, but very little hope of its adoption, we may take a brief review of it. Its general features were a principal board at Washing-ton, with branches in all the States that would allow it, and with authority to employ a bank as an agent wherever deemed expedient, as, for instance, the Bank of Commerce in New York. This board and branches to receive and pay out the public monies, receive individual deposites draw, purchase, and accept bills of exchange at two per cent, and to issue, to government creditors, paper money, based on the credit of the government, limited only that it shall not exceed three times the specie on hand; and, in addition, to issue certificates of deposite for all specie deposited, at a charge of one-half per cent. No distinction is made between the specie constituting the basis of the paper money and that for which certificates are issued These certificates would circulate as money for exchang purposes, and for every $10,000,000 so deposited, $30,000,000 of paper money, and $10,000,000 of certificates, making $40, 000,000 of money would be thrown upon the market. The government paper to be issued in payment of its debts, and he discount of bills of exchange, to be drawn on anothe State at a place five hundred miles from the place of pur hase. That is to say, if an individual at Washington wanted an accommodation note discounted, he is to draw it in the form of a bill on his correspondent in New York This he will get discounted, and receive government paper therefor. When the bill falls due in News York, his correspondent draws another on him, which is discount ed at the New York office.

Let us suppose that this plan should go into operation with public confidence in it, on the first January next, all the offices being organized. Its business would com mence in New York by receiving, during the first month, from the public dues, say $1,000,000 of specie, and in other offices $500,000, making $1,500,000. At the same time, as specie is moving from New York and the scaports all over the interior, at an expense of say three per cent, pro-bably $5,000,000 would find the government vaults, and certificates would issue at two per cent. At the close of 000 specie, for which there are outstanding $5,000,000 certificates. In addition, the government has a right to issu $19,500,000 of paper money. By that time the government will owe $40,000,000. It now owes $35,000,000, and of cours the paper will immediately issue. In thirty days, therefore, there would be $24,500,000 of paper money thrown upon the market. It would intercept the specie now finding its way into the channels of circulation, and fill all the currents of trade with this paper, driving back the specie to the Atlantic border and accelerating its flow into the Exchequer, whence its amount would issue quadrupled in the form of paper money. As soon as the government debt shall have assumed this new form, for not a dollar of the actual indebtedness of the government would be diminished by the operation, would commence the exchange of government credits for those of individuals to be seen the description. uals, to keep the channel by which the paper money is to be thrown into circulation. The amount outstanding, by these means, would, in a very short time, reach $100,000. one. Who is there, at all acquainted with the operations of paper money, that would not contemplate with fear the results of such an addition, so based, to the carrency of the country? Speculation would start, price a rise, and the glutted markets of Europe, now bound tast by our steady currency, would burst upon us in an avalanche— their enormous stocks of goods, that, Fige the swelling tide of the ocean, would roll over the sontinent from on end to the other, and, receding, cr.rry in its fatal folds not only the specie, but the hon or, national faith, peace and perhaps the liberties of the country.

Cattle Market,

All was fair in the market to-day. Cattle were plenty enough, and demand brisk enough. We cannot, however say that prices were low enough. Some beeves went as high as $5.75, many at about $4.75, and more than a hun dred below that price. Several poor ones much below $4.60 a hundred weight. We note no change in cows and caives. They ranged from $20 .$38. Sheep and lamb varied from $1 to $5, and several a little higher. These were sold by the head.
