Buffalo Bill.

This noted scout and guide, whose handsome personal appearance and genial bearing is well-known to all and whose many strange and romantic incidents make a life which is more fit to adorn the pages of romance than any fancy of the brain which could suggest any of the heroes of the "Leatherstocking" tales, will be here Monday. Born upon the western prairies, and reared amid wild scenes of tumult, his father murdered in the early days when Kansas, with the strength of a young giant was shaking off the yoke of African slavery, a trained Indian fighter, and having served his young state in earliest manhood as a trusted and honored member of the Legislature, it is probable that William F. Cody is as well acquainted with all that pertains to the west as any other living man.

His acquaintance and fame as a great western scout and actor are as broad as the nation. Cody, although young in years, has filled a prominent place in the history of the west. His services to the United States have been far in excess of the compensation received. His gentlemanly instincts, linked with his good nature and ability, make him a great friend of General Phil. Sheridan. So polished and gentlemanly in manners, combined with his fitness, he was made by the Government a special guide to go with the Duke Alexis, of Russia, on his celebrated buffalo hunt through the West.

THE grand jury, Thursday, returned the following indictments, viz: Thos. Wilson, Samuel Foster and Chas. Williams, assaulted with intent to rob; H. B. Porter, Jr., horse stealing; same, grand larceny; Wm. Marshall, colored, burglary. Williams, Foster and Wilson's bail was fixed at $500 each; Porter's at $250 in each case, and Marshall's at $500, which none of them were able to give. The parties are all in jail awaiting their trial. The grand jury failed to indict James A. Foster, colored, and Charles Cornelius, colored, the parties who were suspected of stealing a large sum of money from Mr. John Masterson recently. They were released from jail Thursday afternoon.

AT the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias, of Kentucky held at Owensboro on the 12th inst. the following officers were elected: J. G. Powers, Owensboro (ex-officio), Sitting Past Grand Chancellor; A. J. Lovely, Paris, Grand Chancellor; D. O. Wilkin, Carrollton, Vice Grand Chancellor; P. R. Zulau, Grand Prelate; C. E. Minott, Louisville, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals; Geo. W. Mentz, Louisville, Grand Master of Exchequer, W. S. Saffell, Frankfort, Grand Master at Arms; W. C. Quinby, Grand Inner Guard.

CARLISLE Mercury: Mr. Wm. Holmes, of Maysville, on last Monday bought out H. A. Bierley's entire stock of groceries and confectioneries, and will continue to conduct the business at the same stand. Mr. Holmes is an accommodating and clever gentleman, and we welcome him to our midst.

The official figures of the vote on the school tax as published by the Yeoman, gives the majority for the measure as 16,788.

NEWPORT has twenty-four cases of small-pox.

The Ripley Bee and Times says:

The Maysville band, one of the best in the country, was here on last Monday evening, to fill an engagement with the Democracy for W. W. Young. While here they serenaded several of our citizens, and in their rounds paid us a pleasant call. Their selections were first-class and we return our thanks.

THE following marriage licenses have been issued in Brown county, Ohio, since our last report:

THE Bracken Chronicle says:

Our representative interviewed Capt. Brown of the steamer Clipper, recently, in relation to the suit brought against his boat for $3,000. He expresses himself as being satisfied he can beat the parties who instituted suit, saying that he never at any time, had more people aboard the boat than was allowed by law. The barge he used as a "lighter" contained the bulk of the passengers, and that the Clipper, proper, never contained the amount stated. The barge was used to make landings, his boat drawing so much water that he could not approach near enough shore to land her passengers. The party who had the suit brought gets one half of the money received and Mr. Brown thinks that is the cause of the suit. He has not received official notice of a suit yet, but has learned from the Captains of the Handy and Katie Prather that the suits have been filed.

The colored A. and M. association held their annual exhibition, near this place last week. The attendance was good and a financial success. Only one arrest was made and that was a white man from Robertson county. The music was furnished by J. H. Brister's reed band of Carlisle and was very creditable.

Dr. Clarke and wife of Vanceburg, while visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bedford, near this place, met with a very sad misfortune on Tuesday, by the death of both their little girls, aged respectively four and six years. They had been sick but a short time, when that fatal disease diphtheria carried them to the other shore. They were interred in the cemetery at this place Wednesday morning in one grave-side by side and now sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

The Result.

Cincinnati Commercial

The overwhelming defeat of the republicans in Ohio, is likely to be far-reaching in its consequences. In Indiana the Republicans have looked hopefully to Ohio, conscious that defeat here would greatly imperil the chances of success there, and make redoubled effort necessary to neutralize its mischievous effect. Had Ohio gone Republican in October we should have counted on Indiana to certainly go Republican in November. As it is, Indiana becomes a doubtful battle ground, with the chances Democratic.

In Pennsylvania the Ohio defeat will be demoralizing; with the party there hopelessly divided, and the Independents growing daily in numbers, it is probable the Democrats will carry the State by a plurality. But as the Independents prefer that to a continuation of the Cameron boss rule, the lamentations over disaster will be chiefly confined to the Stalwarts, who will read in the defeat the death warrant of their own power.

In New York the defeat of Folger is conceded by even those who moderately advocate his election on personal grounds, through they do not approve the methods by which his nomination was secured. But the defeat in Ohio will augment the disaster in New York and swell the Democratic majority to tremendous proportions.

If those who, by their insane policy, have fooled and frittered away a Republican majority of 24,000 in two years, and given the State into Democratic hands by a majority nearly or quite as large as their own party had in 1880, can find any compensation for their folly in the election of the entire Democratic State ticket, their loss of several Representatives in congress, and the permanent disaffection of the German voters, they must be philosophers with a capacity for extracting gunbeams from cucumbers.
